And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

We were not able to attend the meeting in Sweetwater Friday evening when the man to be the Democratic nominee to represent us as state representative was chosen, but from what we have read we believe that the committee did a good job in selecting Elmer Martin of Colorado City.

Naturally, we would have liked to have seen Jack Willingham get the nomination but recognize the fact that Jack does not really have time for this additional job. In talking to Jack Monday he said that he was well pleased with the committee's selection.

We can't say that we are too pleased with this method of selecting the man who will represent us in Austin for the next two years but the only way the people could have had a voice in the matter would have been either a write-in campaign in November or for David Ratliff to have resigned after being elected in November.

We are just glad that it appears that everything worked out as well as it did.

One of the problems that will face who ever is elected to represent this district next year, and barring some unforeseen circumstance it will be Martin, is the matter of hospital districts for Hamlin and Fisher County.

While the Legislature is still in session as this is written, it does not seem likely that this matter will be resolved during this special session and will come up again next January.

It is our hope that some form of compromise can be worked out with Fisher County that will best serve the interests of both groups. We have no desire to deprive Fisher County of a much needed hospital but at the same time do feel that we are due some consideration for the area just West of Hamlin that is so much a part of Hamlin.

The people of Stamford failed to wake up to a similar problem a number of years ago and now have a large area within the Stamford city limits that pay taxes to support the Haskell Hospital District.

And with Hamlin continuing to grow to the West, we could have more and more people living in Hamlin, paying city taxes and at the same time paying for a hospital in Rotan.

It would seem to us that the people of Fisher County could maintain a hospital district that would generate enough revenue without that part of the county that includes our school district.

Since this is written on Monday, the day the Democratic national convention opens in Miami, it is hard to predict what will transpire during this session, but it is pretty safe to bet that it will be a wild one.

For one thing the new rules put forth by the "McGovern Commission" have fixed it where 80 percent of the delegates will be attending their first convention. These new rules specify a certain quota for blacks, women, teenagers, senior citizens, etc., until there is no room left for the loyal party Democrat who has been keeping the precinct offices open all these years.

We hear a lot of talk about getting rid of the party bosses and giving control to the rank and file members, especially the minority groups. This includes the smoke filled rooms where all of the so called dirty politics is supposed to take place.

But we wonder if all of this change of carried out to the extreme, as it appears to be at least for the present, won't be the downfall of the party.

We can not help but wonder who is going to keep the party going during Propst said that there may be a total of three aerial sprayings, depending on the weather and weevil build-up in the cotton fields. He said that farmers' or landowners' share in the program will be 85 cents an acre per spraying, making a total of $2.55 per acre for the three sprayings.

Propst said that if less sprayings are required the unused money will be refunded. The state will match the local money.

Colorado City Man Named Nominee for House Seat

Former Mitchell County Judge Elmer Martin of Colorado City was chosen late Friday as the Democratic nominee for state representative from District 61.

The nominating committee composed of County Democratic Chairman from the counties included in the district chose Martin over six other applicants in an hour-long executive session at the Holiday Inn in Sweetwater after questioning the men for two hours.

Martin replaces David Ratliff of Stamford, former state senator who declined the nomination to the House seat June 22 after winning the May 6 Democratic primary without opposition. Martin will have no Republican opponent in the November General Election.

Martin was county judge of Mitchell County for 12 years and is now a farmer and has some stock. He served as county judge from 1959 through 1971.

Martin, if elected, will represent Jones, Nolan, Fisher and Mitchell Counties, all of Taylor County outside of Abilene and a small slice of southwestern Abilene.

Martin was chosen in a closed-door executive session after the public questioning session, which was attended by about 10 observers besides the committeemen and newsmen.

The five-man committee met first on June 30 to organize and select Joe Lassiter of Merkel, the Taylor County representative, permanent chairman. Other members of the committee were Moody H. Galbreath of Anson, Ocie Hunt of Sweetwater, Max Carriker of Roby, and Tom Rees of Colorado City.

Other applicants for the nomination, all of whom appeared before the committee Friday night, were Jack Willingham, Hamlin attorney; former state representative Roy Arledge of Stamford; Bill Longley, grocery store operator of Stamford; Jim Wilks, Sweetwater attorney; A. A. (Si) Addington, Abilene businessman; and Ed Aiken, president of Sweetwater Savings Assn.

TEN YEARS AGO
(July 5, 1962)

The Cub Scouts will go on a rock hunt and weiner roast at the Salt Fork of the Brazos River Saturday afternoon. The boys and one dad from each den will meet at the primary building at 2 p.m. Each person is to bring his own weiners and other food. Cokes will be furnished.

A project planned to provide several hundred local auto owners with safety belts, completely installed, at a minimum cost, will be conducted this month by the Hamlin Jaycees. The belts will be offered to the public for $6.95 per seat, installed, by the local club on Saturday and Sunday, July 14 and 15.

Hamlin Post Office employees were recently awarded safe driving awards by Perry Sparks, postmaster. Harold Bonner, route three carrier, was awarded a 19 year pin; Walter L. Hunter Jr., city route one carrier, was awarded an 11 year pin; and Brad Rowland, route one rural carrier, received a one year pin.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
(July 4, 1952)

Final plans for Hamlin's city-wide clean-up campaign were being shaped this week under direction of the Hamlin Business and Professional Women's Club, in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce and the City of Hamlin.

Opening of the new Hassen Dry Goods Company building on South Central Avenue, formerly occupied by the Hamlin Automotive, was celebrated last Friday. It also marked the twenty fourth anniversary of the Hassen firm in Hamlin. The business had been located in the Bayouth building, seven doors north of the new site, for many years.

Two highway construction jobs being handled out of the Hamlin engineering office of the Texas Highway Department got underway Monday morning.

The third annual Neinda community reunion will be held at the community center Sunday, July 6. Attendants are urged to bring a basket lunch and be with the ones who live and have lived at Neinda.

City of Hamlin's budget for the new year beginning May 1, 1952, and ending April 30, 1953, was adopted when members of the City Council met Tuesday evening in a special session. The budget, reflecting several increases over the previous year's budget, included routine wages, bond payments and other city expenses.

FORTY-THREE YEARS AGO
(July 5, 1929)

Monday's night's rain of nearly one and one-half inches brought to a close a period of unusual dry hot days that promised to play havoc with the growing crops. For many days the hot winds and scorching sun had sent the young crops and the grass to the bad being all the worse, as they followed the copious rains of May. But as has proven many times before, the rains do come and what seemed disaster is turned into a veritable oasis of growing wealth.

The Baptist Woman's Missionary Society met Monday afternoon at the First Baptist Church with twenty women present for the Bible study. Prior to the lesson a short devotional was conducted.

For several issues the Herald has failed to tell of the new homes that are being built in our city. On north Central Avenue a modern brick cottage has been completed. Two new homes built on Park Street are stucco and of attractive Spanish style. A red brick home has been built on Hope Avenue and another red brick home is near completion on Alamo Street.

And What Have You

the off years when all these newcomers to party politics do not have a fair-haired candidate to rally around.

Who is going to keep the party machinery intact down at the precinct levels year after year. We doubt if many of reform minded liberals will be able to keep their interest up very long when it comes down to the not so glamorous job of running the party, holding local elections and raising money to keep the wheels turning.

And since the old party regulars, included most of the elected representatives of the House and Senate, were excluded from the convention, we wonder just how much they are going to be concerned about working for the party.

We don't believe that anyone should be excluded from having a voice in running either one of the major parties but do feel that going the route of so many blacks, so many women, so many senior citizens, etc. is not the answer.

A case in point, is our own precinct and county conventions. All of these minority groups did not bother to attend either one of these meetings and consequently were not chosen as delegates.

Now on the state level do you bar these people who did take the time to attend to the party's affairs just so that you can name representatives from a minority group from some other part of the state? We do not believe this fair or democratic.

You read and hear a lot about these so called party bosses and are told they are bad and that the people should control the party, but we must remember that it is these party regulars that through good times and bad times have kept the wheels turning down through the years.

Neinda Philosopher Comes Up With Solution to Air Hijacking Problem

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One claims he has a solution to the airplane hijacking problem. You decide whether he has.

Dear editor:

After some long and hard thinking I have come up with a solution to the airplane hijacking problem, and it's about time.

As you know, the airlines and the government have tried nearly everything to stop the crime, from hiring sky patrolmen to ride shotgun to using all sorts of metal detecting devices to trying to psychoanalyze each passenger as he goes through the turn stile, but people keep on hijacking planes, getting on board with everything from pistols to machine guns, from nitroglycerine to hand grenades, from long-bladed knives to sawed-off shotguns.

The thing simply can't go on, so I'm offering a solution free of charge and I wonder why nobody else has thought of it.

Although it would be the ultimate in preventing anybody from carrying weapons aboard, the country, at least the part of it I'm familiar with, just isn't ready yet to fly nude, therefore the airlines should do the next best thing.

First, install two dressing rooms at every airport between the ticket window and the gate leading to the planes, one for men, one for women. When a passenger shows up he goes in, undresses, hands all his clothes to an attendant, is inspected in the raw from head to foot, and is then given a flight suit to wear aboard the plane. His clothes, his hand luggage, her purse in the case of a woman, are all put in a sack, tagged, and stored in the baggage compartment of the plane.

Landing at his destination, the passenger goes to the dressing room, gets out of his flight suit and into his street clothes, and gets a cab for the two hour or so ride into town.

I guarantee under this system nobody's going to get on a plane carrying a hijacking weapon. Everybody may be dressed alike in those flight suits, but it'll beat going to Cuba or Algeria or sitting in a plane on the runway while the airline rounds up half a million dollars in small bills.

But wait a minute, I just read about two men hijacking a bus loaded with people headed for a race track, making the driver cruise around town while they robbed all the passengers of several thousand dollars and disappeared into a crowd.

This is going to take some thinking. Changing clothes to get on a bus on a busy street in broad daylight has a lot of drawbacks. I will turn this problem over to you.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Early churches used steeples to make the building higher than all others in the city. People could see God's House from any direction, and could easily find their way to a place of worship.

Today, with many office buildings towering into the sky, churches are not always the tallest buildings. However, churches still point the way to God, and provide a place of worship.

Mrs. Gibson Gets Award In Secondary Education Field

Mrs. Lillie Gibson has been selected as a Leader of American Secondary Education for 1972 in recognition of her contributions to the advancement of secondary education and service to community. She received the certificate award from Dr. V. Gilbert Beers, Director of Leaders of American Secondary Education, Chicago, Illinois.

Mrs. Gibson's biography will appear in the annual awards volume honoring America's foremost secondary teachers who have explored new paths, developed new insights, and effectively communicated their knowledge to both school and community.

Nominees for Leaders of American Secondary Education are selected by their own school administrators for their knowledge, dedication, and leadership as exceptional educators. Mrs. Gibson was nominated for this award by Mr. Jerry J. Hamrick, Superintendent of Anson Schools.

In making the presentation, Hamrick stated, "I believe all the superintendents of Jones County Schools will agree with me that Mrs. Gibson is an outstanding supervisor, a dedicated and knowledgeable teacher who has a keen sense of understanding of educational techniques. Her warm personality, sense of humor, and devotion to the highest principles of education has earned her a place of high regards by the administrators, teachers, and students of Jones County Schools."

In accepting the award, Mrs. Gibson asserted, "I am exceedingly grateful for this recognition, but I feel that it should be shared by all with whom I have worked. It is a rewarding experience for me to have been a part of the educational process during these changing times. There is no greater satisfaction than for me to work with the youths of America, to help them attain new levels of accomplishment, to reach the maximum of their potentialities, and to be productive, happy citizens. Thank you for allowing me to be of service in this area."

Mrs. Gibson has retired from her position as supervisor of Jones County Schools. She and her husband, Everett who is retired from the T. P. Oil Company, are moving to Stephenville, the county seat of their home county. While their new home is under construction, the Gibsons will live in Gordon, and visit with their son, Dr. Everett K. Gibson, geochemist of the Lunar Receiving Laboratory, NASA, near Houston.
